Shape the Future of Operations Management

Be a part of the APICS community with academicians and operations management professionals from around the world.

When you join APICS you are connecting with more than 43,000 professionals in 15,000 industries worldwide. APICS is an internationally recognized association with members who are academicians, practitioners, instructors, students, and experts in all areas of operations management, including inventory, production, materials management, supply chain, purchasing, and logistics.

As an academic professional member, you are an important link between the academic community and the profession. Academic professional members contribute to the expansion of the APICS body of knowledge; strengthen education, training, and resources in operations management; and provide guidance to students entering the workforce.

Benefits of Academic Professional Membership

- Recognition. Showcase your experience and expertise by contributing to the operations management body of knowledge through research, published articles, presenting, and mentoring.
- Connection. Network with more than 43,000 industry professionals worldwide.
- Information. Gain access to publications and resources to keep you current on practical applications of developing tactics.
- Legacy. Make a difference in the professional growth of students entering the workforce.

We invite you to take part in shaping the future of operations management.
